

Black Hole

Muazaz Majeed
Mult 150

How to Play

Concept

Black Hole is a single player game that can be competitive. The concept revolves controlling a black hole that can grow in size by consuming various objects in its surroundings. Players goal is to be the biggest hole by the end of the game.

Rules

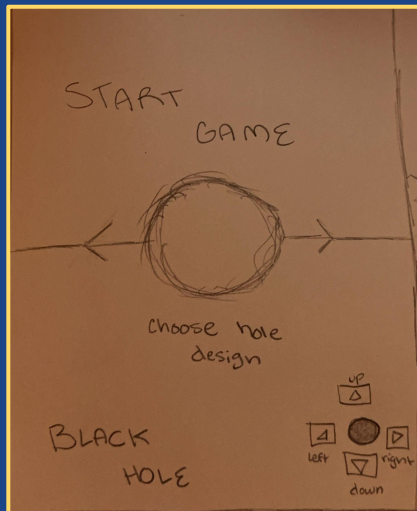

The objective of the game is to grow your black hole by swallowing different objects such as chickens, bushes, and other farm objects. The more items you consume, the larger your hole becomes. Use the Left, Right, Up and Down arrows on your screen or keyboard to move.

Requirements

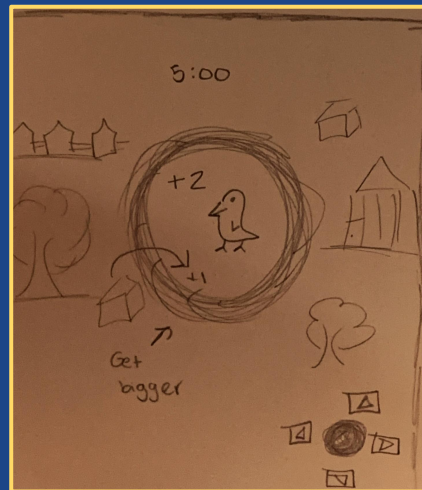

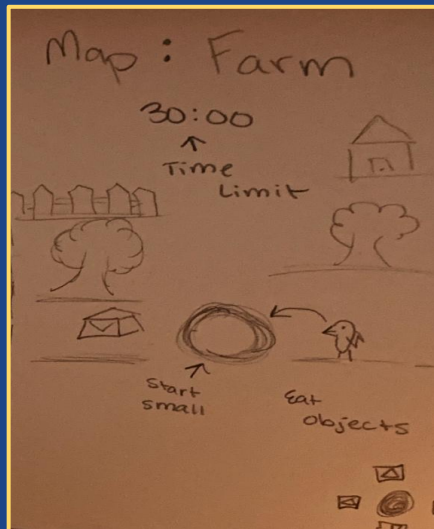

Only way to play the game is if the player has a device, like a computer or phone to be able to access it. This game is aimed towards a young audience but anyone can play it.

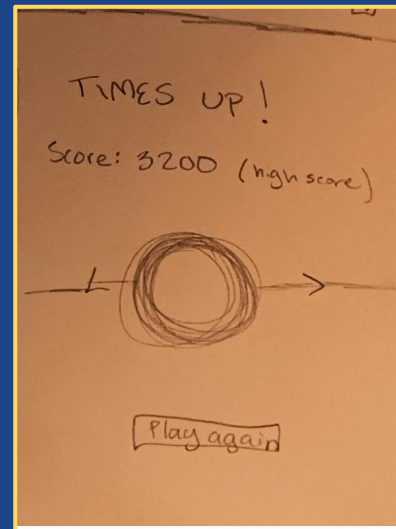

Storyboard

Start

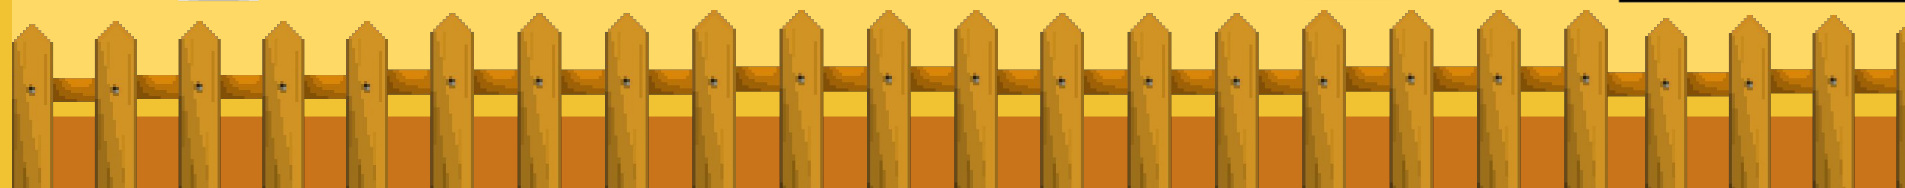

End

Game Layout

Black Hole features a bird's-eye view perspective, allowing players to see the game environment from above. In this view, players can navigate their black holes across the farm, eating objects to grow larger. This viewpoint helps in assessing the surroundings, identifying potential targets for consumption, and avoiding obstacles.

Start of the Game

Players start in a lobby or menu screen where they can choose options, including game mode or difficulty.

After selecting, players are introduced to the game map. The map is a farm, with chickens laying around ready to be consumed. The camera provides a top-down view, allowing players to see the entire map.

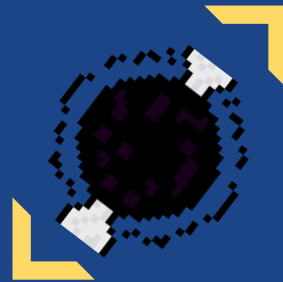

Gameplay

Consume Objects

Control a black hole that can devour objects in its surroundings. These objects range from small items like chicken to larger structures such as a farmhouse.

Be the Biggest

As the black hole consumes objects, it grows in size, allowing it to engulf even larger items. The more items a player consumes, the more points they earn, contributing to their overall score in the game.

End of the Game

There is a time limit during which players compete to grow their back holes and collect points by consuming objects. When the time limit runs out, the game ends and players are presented with their final results

Black Hole

Very fun and entertaining
game

Coming soon

